

MASTER'S OF MUSIC EDUCATION

The Master of Science (M.S.) in Music Education degree program at CCSU program is designed to provide the certified music teacher with professional training beyond the baccalaureate degree in music education. The five core courses are offered in a three-year rotation during each Summer Music Institute (SMI). The summer workshops can be applied toward the twelve credits of electives in the program. Graduates are expected to meet the challenges presented by the philosophical, pedagogical, theoretical, and musical aspects of the field through the development of the analytic and critical skills required to solve contemporary problems in various aspects of music and music education.
